

The Woody Cabin Bargain Bin

Over the course of a production schedule our quality control personal painstakingly inspects each log for quality. Certain logs are rejected due to larger than usual cracking or a blemish in the log face. Generally these imperfections are caught at the raw timber stage but due to the nature of wood some logs go through the manufacturing process and get to the packaging department and are rejected for various reasons. The percentage of rejected logs is small but as our business grows "seconds" logs accumulate.

Structurally these logs are sound but due to cosmetic inconsistencies they are placed in our "seconds" bin.

If you are looking to save a fortune on your log cabin these "seconds" logs might be a great fit for your project. A little extra caulking and only you will know you purchased seconds. All logs are guaranteed to fit as intended and have the structural integrity required to last for generations. The actual log portion of the kit are the only second run parts included. All other log kit components are first run parts as included in our fully engineered Woody log kits. Perfect for smaller cabin retreats

An example of the savings;

A Woody Weekender 14'8"X19'4" (284 sq.ft.) Normal log kit price $19,800

Bargain Bin Price $10,900

Limited availability

If you have an interest in getting on our waiting list let me know what you have in mind. E mail me directly at mark@cabintek.com

Mark Wille
Owner

